#WomenInTech Breakfast

April 22nd, Wednesday @ 8:00-9:00am

Join us for our virtual event, #WomenInTech Breakfast 🍳🔍

During this session, we will be having conversations around how these three things have changed in the past few weeks: work, communication, and mental health.

It's important to talk about challenges and successes, how you cope with the new normal, and balancing all the new tasks that have fallen onto your plate.

We hope to share among the group different tips, tricks, and resources to help each other and make new meaningful connections to support one another during this time.

This event will be facilitated by Katya Gorlatova, Madi Palermo, & Lisa Russell from CWIT along with special guest, Stacy Cassio from Pink Mentor Network!

National Volunteer Appreciation Week is

April 19 - 25th, 2020!

Volunteers make the world go around. You share your time, talent and heart with organizations that need it most. Maybe you've helped plan or execute some of our events, or perhaps you've given your time to connect us with other opportunities in the community, or it's possible you haven't connected with us yet and already share your gifts with others in and around your community. In whatever capacity you give, thank you!

Give - Opportunities to Volunteer with CWIT in 2020

There's still time to become a CWIT volunteer! Fill out the volunteer application for the CWIT positions of your interest.

We are working with some amazing local organizations in need of volunteers. Be on the lookout in our next newsletter, if you are interested in those opportunities.

Tell us your volunteer story.

How are you giving back during this time? Do you have an amazing volunteer story to share? Send it to us, we'd love to hear it!
